

PROFILE

The success of Kobelco Construction Machinery America has been built on our dedication to total customer satisfaction through our manufacturer/dealer partnership. Today, as a division of CNH Global, we remain committed to this goal through 250 North American distribution outlets. This Total-Service Attitude is combined with our unmatched efforts in engineering, manufacturing and product support to provide the finest construction machines.

For each machine to meet Kobelco's Guarantee of Excellence, our engineering process provides state-of-the-art technological innovations with features such as our ITCS power unit control system (Intelligent Total Control System).

Our machines' ergonomics and ease-of-operation match their technological prowess. The end result is a line of equipment that provides the most powerful and efficient operating system on the market today.

Kobelco customers and dealers enjoy a commitment to unmatched quality and service. Every dealer is backed by engineers as well as in-house and field service representatives and technical staff. Combined with our large on-line parts inventory, we ensure minimal downtime, maximizing our customers' profitability.
